March 2018

Like good stewards of the manifold grace of God, serve one another with whatever gift each of you has received. ...so that God may be glorified in all things through Jesus Christ. To him belong the glory and the power forever and ever. Amen. 1 Peter 4:10-11

Finding Peace

Finding Peace is the guiding principle of our Lenten journey this year. Each Sunday in worship, we're focusing on where we find peace as we grow as disciples. We began on Ash Wednesday with a call to be reconciled and be at peace. The first Sunday in Lent helped us try to make sense of suffering. Week two called us to remember that Christ calls us out in the open and reminds us to respond in the same way. This month, we'll begin with a reminder that God decides who is worthy of redemption, not us. That's a big load we don't have to carry. The fourth week in Lent will assure us that we are saved by grace through faith and not by works. The fifth week will confront us with Jesus' willing sacrifice on our behalf. That will bring us to Palm Sunday, a joyful celebration before we enter Holy Week with its somber reminders of the passion and death of Jesus. I hope you'll join us for worship each week as we seek God's peace together.

Peace! I hope that you are finding additional ways to experience peace during Lent this year. Like all things intended to help us grow in faith, we will benefit from our Lenten experience if we see it as helpful and not burdensome. Many find Lenten sacrifice a helpful tool. Giving up something important to us helps us to think about the sacrifice Jesus made on our behalf.

Of course, doing without chocolate or soft drinks (or hard ones) for forty days pales in comparison to what Jesus endured, but anything that helps us think of Christ's love for us is good. Others have found that taking on some new discipline is more helpful. Spending more time in prayer, taking on some additional study of Scripture, doing acts of kindness or compassion for others--these and other efforts can help us to focus on our faith, too.

The goal of all this activity, during Lent or any other time, is to draw closer to Christ and to experience his love for us and its call to love one another. This year's Lenten Bible study on Sunday afternoons at 5 pm focuses on the Beatitudes. It's not too late to join that group and find peace in Jesus' teachings.

I look forward to seeking and finding peace with you in this season and in the joyous celebration of Easter that will follow it.

Grace and Peace,
Bob

Music Notes

from Deanna Phelps, Music Director

The choir is working hard to prepare for all the worship experiences we will have together during Lent and Easter this year. We're still struggling with some pieces and are making good progress on others. I've thought some recently about how similar our work on music for worship is to our journey as disciples. As we learn music, we cover the same ground over and over, working on individual notes and parts and then combining them into a whole piece. Sometimes we feel that way about our Bible study and worship. We hear the same stories over and over. Some of them we think we know, and some of them seem to have new things to teach us every time we encounter them. When we learn to put the individual stories of Scripture into a broader understanding of God's love for us, we begin to get the point. Working together is another important skill in music. We need good soloists once in a while, but there is little place for solo voices in a choir. When we learn to blend our voices together, we make beautiful music together. When individual voices dominate, we become something else. In a similar way, we can always accomplish more in the church together than any of us can accomplish alone. When we learn to identify and use the gifts of all, we accomplish great things for God's mission. And then of course, there is the matter of new things. Many of us love the old hymns and songs we have known all our life, but God calls us to sing a new song. We try to strike a balance in the choir between things you know and new things. So, in our faith, the way we have always done things is comfortable, but as the world changes around us, we find new ways to both hear and share the Good News.

As always, there is a place for new singers in the choir. We look forward to all the opportunities we will have to worship and grow together as Easter approaches.

Presbyterian Women of the Presbytery of Mississippi will hold their 30th Annual PW Gathering at Fondren Presbyterian in Jackson on Saturday, March 10. Several women from JJ White plan to attend the event of friendship and worship with women across the Presbytery. PDA "Gift of the Heart" kits from JJ White will be delivered to the pastor of Fondren to be taken from there to the receiving facility in Arkansas - postage free!

This gathering in Jackson will take the place of the usual PW of JJ White meeting for March. The next regularly scheduled meeting PW of JJ White will be on Tuesday, April 10, at 11:30 in the Fellowship Hall.

All women are invited and encouraged to join this group for mission, Bible study, and friendship - plus a light lunch.

Gift of the Heart Kits

PRESBYTERIAN

OUT OF CHAOS, HOPE

We have been assembling Gift of the Heart Kits for Presbyterian Disaster Assistance (PDA) since before Christmas. Our Presbyterian Women's group, some Sunday School groups, and some individuals have assembled clean up buckets, personal hygiene kits, and school supply kits for a couple of months. We have been joined in our efforts by area Realtors who have made personal hygiene kits one of their service projects this year. Our Debbie Stovall has spearheaded this effort. The Pike County Quilters' Guild, who meet in our building once a month, have also contributed kits. We are grateful for all who have helped with this important ministry. As spring storm season approaches, our efforts will help keep PDA supplied.

Members of our Presbyterian Women group will be delivering these kits when they travel to Jackson on March 10 to participate in the annual spring PW gathering at the Fondren Church there. Rob Lowry, the pastor at Fondren, has ties to Arkansas and has offered to deliver these kits for us. We are grateful for his help.

There is still time if you would like to participate in this mission project. Lists of what goes in each kit are available at all the sanctuary entrances. Kits must be here by Wednesday, March 7, and, at this point, we are accepting only complete kits. Please see Suzi Drummond for more information. Thanks to all who have helped with this effort.

Daylight Saving Time Begins on March 11

Remember to set your clocks ahead one hour before retiring on Saturday, March 10. Daylight Saving Time will begin early in the morning on Sunday, March 11. You'll want to be on time for Sunday School and worship that day.
